

END OF 146-YEAR ERA:

Shawneetown Ferry Makes Last Trip Across Ohio River with Opening of New Bridge

By ROBERT L. ULLRICH
United Press Staff Correspondent

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (UP) — A 146-year transportation era ended today when the Shawneetown ferry made its last trip across the Ohio River between Illinois and Kentucky.

A new five-million-dollar bridge between the two states opened to traffic at 2 p. m. Traffic now can whisk across the 3,300-foot span in 2 minutes, compared with a ferry ride of about 10 minutes.

The "Lucy" and "Guy L." diesel-powered towboats that pushed the ferry barge, will be auctioned off June 14 by the state of Kentucky, which bought out the late Capt. Guy Lambert and his fellow stockholders of the Shawneetown Ferry Co.

Thus will end an era that began in 1810 when the Randolph County Court granted Alexander Wilson a license "to keep the ferry from Shawnee Town."

In 1814, William H. Harrison, governor of the Indiana Territory, granted Wilson a federal franchise. This stayed in the Wilson family until 1921 when Lambert bought it and an inadequate ferry boat from James H. and Bluford Wilson, descendants of Alexander.

Helped Build Boats

Lambert had been a river mail carrier with his own boat, "The Uncle Sam," between Rosiclare and Shawneetown. He paid $5,000 for the franchise and ferryboat, which he dubbed "The Louse" because of the poor job it did.

Lambert's daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Schwander, recalls her father had to plead with his wife for permission to buy the ferry. Mrs. Lambert believed, as did others, that it was a white elephant.

"My father said 'I can see cars coming and traffic will grow and it will make money,'" Mrs. Schwander recalled. "He had one of the first cars and after he bought the ferry he built the barges to carry cars. The 'Louse' and 'The Uncle Sam' would only carry foot passengers."

Shawneetown merchants urged Lambert to buy and improve the ferry service, because at that time many Kentuckians crossed the river to trade here. And so Lambert did.

When he couldn't buy a boat or barge to his specifications, he would have one built. Mrs. Schwander said he took a hand himself in building some craft.

Humor and Tragedy

History books show that the 1956 fare of 75 cents for autos and 10 cents for pedestrians was a bargain. In 1810, Wilson got these fares:

Wagon and four horses or oxen, $150; man on horse, 50 cents; adults afoot, 25 cents; cattle, 12½ cents each; sheep or hogs, 9½ cents each.

The ferry ran without interruption except during flood. There have been many

Establish Special Committee for Small Business

President Sets Up Cabinet Group; Burns is Chairman

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today established a special cabinet committee to strengthen the "economic position" and foster the "sound development" of small businesses.

Establishment of the committee, under administration consideration for months, was discussed at today's cabinet meeting. Shortly after the cabinet adjourned the new committee went into immediate session to plan its organization.

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, was designated as committee chairman by the President.

In a letter to Burns, Mr. Eisenhower said:

"The committee is to have the continuing assignment of making specific recommendations to me for administrative actions, and where necessary, for additional legislation to strengthen the economic position of small businesses and to foster their sound development."

The committee includes the secretaries of defense, commerce, and labor, Dr. Arthur Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, Small Business Administrator Wendell B. Barnes and Housing and Home Finance Administrator Albert M. Cole.

There have been heavy demands from some congressmen for more federal action to promote the welfare of small businessmen. They have argued that small businessmen have been having trouble keeping alive in the face of competition from big corporations.

Officers Patrol County Roads to Halt 'Drag' Races

County officers and state police are patrolling Saline county roads to stop "drag" racing by young motorists, Sheriff William T. Barrett said today.

Barrett declared today's story is a final warning to the participants, that if they are caught they will be charged with reckless driving, which carries a stiff fine. He said he had been receiving a lot of complaints of such races.

Officers will use both police and unmarked cars in running down these hazardous affairs, the sheriff stated.

Last night, Barrett said, he and Deputy Sheriff Everett Sneed stopped a race just as it was getting started on the Liberty road. Two carsloads of youngsters were brought to town and lectured about the dangers and the future consequences.

In a "drag" race, cars line up side by side on a road and from a dead stop see which car can get to a given point the quickest.

Rule Against Cutting Auto License Plates To Fit Holders on Cars

CHICAGO (UP) — The attorney general in Springfield filed Thursday against the legality of cutting Illinois license plates down to fit holders supplied with some cars.

The ruling served to uphold Chicago traffic policeman, Jack Muller, who recently arrested a motorist for cutting down the plates. Muller is Chicago's champion ticket writer.

About Town And Country

By TIMOTHY T.

Tommy Smith Retires As CIPS Lineman After 38 Years

TOMMY SMITH, one of the most likable fellows encountered by Timothy, has reached that age of retirement.

It's retirement from his job as a lineman with the Central Illinois Public Service Co., because I'll wager Tommy will keep up being quite an active fellow.

He went off to service in World War I and when he came back to Harrisburg he started his service with the CIPS in June of 1918.

So when his retirement became a reality yesterday, he had worked for the same company for 38 years. And all of the service was right here in Harrisburg. That long in one spot with a company like the CIPS is a rarity.

They had a little informal retirement party honoring Mr. Smith at the CIPS office here on Tuesday. All of the local employees and some from the Southern division were here for the occasion and he was presented a gift bearing the best wishes of 140 employees throughout the division.

Walter Erwin, now the oldest employee in point of service in Harrisburg, made the presentation, after which William Hopkins, CIPS group superintendent, presented Mr. Smith with his first CIPS retirement check.

Mr. Smith and his wife, Elsie, reside at 31, North Granger.

TAKE IT FROM TIMMO, things are kinda corny down in the 100 block of West South street. I was down there and can prove it. I stopped at the home of J. Wilburn Davis and out in the back yard, where the glads used to grow, it's a city corn field. It has 16 fine, healthy rows which are 50 feet wide.

Thing about it all is the stalks already are tasseling and within a week the ears should be silking. First planting was March 31, the second April 20.

This corn must be planted in fine soil. It's the same spot where Mr. Davis' son, John, won first prize from the local rotary club in a contest for the best garden put out by a boy under 15 years of age. That was more than 25 years ago.

REGARDING THE PLANNED HALT of passenger service between Harrisburg and Chicago by the New York Central railroad, some of those up the line who are fighting to keep the service are urging people up and down the line to write or wire the Illinois Commerce Commission, State Office Building, Springfield, Ill., giving their views and reasons why the service should not be stopped.

"These letters and telegrams are filed and reviewed by the examiner," the communication stated.

Fined, Sentenced

LeRoy Pritchett yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor when arraigned in county court. Pritchett received a 90-day jail sentence and was ordered to pay a fine of $200 and costs. If he fails to pay the fine and costs he must serve them out in jail at a rate of $1.50 a day.

Life is Like Magnificent Race, Buford Tells HTHS Graduates

Avah Phillips is Highest Ranking Student in Class

J. Lester Buford of Mt. Vernon, president of the National Education association, last night told the Class of 1956 at the 53rd Commencement of Harrisburg Township high school that "Life is like a magnificent race," and proceeded to tell why.

Mr. Buford spoke at the commencement, held in Davenport gym, at which 130 seniors received diplomas.

Besides Mr. Buford's address, Principal Eltis F. Henson listed the 10 highest ranking students which revealed that Avah Phillips was high for the four years with an average of 96.53, listed those who had been neither absent nor tardy during the entire four years, and mentioned a group of those who had received scholarships.

There also was music and the diplomas were given out by the president of the board of education, Dr. Warren D. Tuttle.

Need Good Start in Life

Mr. Buford told the class and the hundreds of others present that there are three things to watch in a relay: (1) the start, (2) the baton exchange and (3) the race itself.

Getting a good start in life means a lot, the speaker said, and de-

John Austin has announced his resignation from the Carrier Mills Community high school faculty to accept the position as superintendent of the Carrier Mills Central grade school. He began his new duties today.

He received his Bachelor in Education degree from Southern Illinois university in 1942 and in 1949 received his Masters degree in Administration and Supervision, also from SIU. He has been assistant principal at the Carrier Mills high school and taught commercial subjects.

Mr. Austin has had two hitches in military service. He served 40 months with the Army during World War II and joined an active reserve unit following his return home. He was recalled to active duty during the Korean action and served 14 months.

clared that many homes are shirking their duty in seeing that the children get this good start, depending too much on the schools and churches and other groups.

He told the graduates to give their bodies a good chance, that it is foolish to do things which don't do them any good.

He also said that the mind should be used and developed as well as the physical structure.

Then he said that too many persons want to get to the top without climbing and when it's easy to reach the top, it's just as easy to fall off the perch.

"If you have to climb, it's much easier to stay up there," he declared.

He said the recipe for happiness is to think more about other people than yourself.

Lists Ten Highest

Mr. Henson was master of ceremonies for the program, which started with the Class Processional by the H. T. H. S. band, directed by the Marshall Cothran. The Rev. Glen Daugherty gave the invocation, after which the band played the Second Movement of Schubert's Unfinished Symphony and Dianne Mathis, accompanied by Ramona Gaddis, played the Adagio from Moonlight Sonata as a marmosa solo.

Following Mr. Buford's remarks, Dorothy Hanning, Arion Award winner, sang a solo, accompanied by John Schork. Mr. Henson gave his report on special honors and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Daugherty.

Mr. Henson listed the ten highest ranking students, which gave Miss Phillips the valedictorian and Miss Dorothy Schneider the salutatorian honors. The ten and their average grade for four years:

1. Avah Phillips 96.53; 2. Dorothy Schneider 96.50; 3. Marilyn Gelsosky 95.97; 4. Norma McDonald 95.31; 5. Mary Matthews 95.03; 6. Maudene Cook 94.50; 7. Dolores Wallace 94.19; 8. Dianne Mathis 94.10; 9. Carolyn Endley 94.09; 10. Phyllis Chenoweth 93.77.

Neither absent nor tardy for the four years were Norman Dale Boatright, Barbara Nell Bristow, Nancy Ann Fulkerson, Patricia Wiley, and Dorothy Schneider. Gary Nelson was not absent but was late once.

Scholarships announced were:

Four of Crew Killed; House Is Set Afire

Four Survivors, Including One Wac, Are Hospitalized

DENVER (UP) — A crippled Air Force B25 bomber narrowly missed houses and crashed and burned in a heavily populated suburban area today, killing four of the eight persons aboard.

One house was set afire by the flames.

The four survivors, one of them a member of the Women's Air Force, were hospitalized at nearby Lowry Air Force Base. Their conditions were not immediately known.

The plane had taken off from Lowry Air Force Base at 7:59 a. m. CST. A Lowry spokesman said that two minutes later the pilot radioed that he was having engine trouble and was attempting to return to the base.

The plane smashed into open ground about a mile south of Lowry in a heavily settled suburban area in Arapahoe County which adjoins Denver. It burst into flame and scattered wreckage over a 200-yard area.

The Air Force said the plane was on a cross-country flight from McCord Air Force Base in Washington state to Tyndall Air Force Base near Panama City, Fla.

None of the persons in the homes or on the ground in the immediate area was injured.

The home of Herbert Roddy was set afire but firemen quickly extinguished the flames and none of its two occupants was injured.

It was the second fatal B25 crash in the immediate vicinity of Lowry and the fifth plane mishap near the installation since May 17.

A B25 which had taken off crashed because of engine failure May 17, killing three of the four crew members aboard. Like the plane involved in today's accident, it was attempting to return to the field for a landing.

Husband Admits Strangulation Murder of Pretty Estranged Wife

PEORIA, Ill. (UP) — Landin Babb confessed today to the strangulation murder of his pretty estranged wife when a police captain tossed a picture of the dead woman in his lap and said "take a look at that."

Babb looked at the picture, then looked up and said, "Okay, I did it."

Babb was in the identification bureau at police headquarters waiting to take a lie detector test when he confessed, police said. Johnson reminded him that the same type of cigarettes he was smoking had been found scattered near his wife's body in the doorway of a food brokerage firm where she worked as a secretary.

Babb did not respond to this maneuver by Johnson. Then the police captain tossed the picture of the dead woman, Mrs. Delores Babb, 26, in her husband's lap and said: "Take a look at that. That couldn't be suicide."

Charges were to be placed against Babb later today. He was held in jail.

Babb, a machinist, walked into police headquarters Thursday night a few hours after his wife's body was discovered on the floor of a deserted office building washroom. She was clad in a white blouse and brown skirt.

Mr. Babb was employed by William Kellogg, 43, as his secretary in his food brokerage firm in the Lafayette Building.

He told police that she had mentioned threats against her life by her husband. He said the couple had been separated about three months.

All Aboard

Editorial By Bruce Blossat

Anyone concerned with America's basic economic health should cheer the news that the railroads are now attracting more passengers.

The growth of air travel in the postwar era is a remarkable development in American life. All the signs indicate a continuing trend and it can be welcomed.

In the same way motor car traffic has mounted astonishingly in the last decade. Insofar as it promotes flexibility and even greater than normal mobility among Americans, it, too, can be accepted as a promising trend.

But through all this growth the rails have suffered, and that has not been good. Obviously not all growth can be sheer gain. Some must come at somebody's expense. Yet there is peril in allowing our railroad system to slip down.

Reports are that today the rails are doing a better job of promoting their service—better trains, better and more modern stations, faster handling of ticket sales, and so on. And they are capitalizing some on the crowded conditions which discourage motorists. The upturn is good news.

Open the Way For Schools

In little more than a month the final pressures will begin to bear down on Congress. If we are going to get a vitally needed school aid bill, the moment for action is at hand.

The administration's proposal, now pending on Capitol Hill, calls for an outlay of $1,600,000,000 for construction of schools throughout the nation.

Delay beyond this session will only magnify the school shortage. We need hundreds of thousands of additional classrooms in the next few years. Nearly 8,700 school districts in America have no schools at all.

The roadblock standing athwart the path of the measure is, of course, the so-called "integration" amendment proposed by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, New York Democrat. He would deny school construction aid to those states which do not act to comply with the Supreme Court's 1954 decision banning racial segregation in public schools.

It should be noted that temperate, responsible leaders in both north and south counsel against any course of compulsion on this issue. The Powell amendment is clearly punitive in intent. It thus runs counter to the moderate thinking found today in the highest circles of both major parties.

Furthermore, since the bill with that attachment has utterly no chance of final passage, its real effect is to penalize American school children all over the land for a matter not of their making.

The day hardly goes by when we do not hear fresh comparisons, most of them painful, between the schooling we are providing our young and that which the Soviet Union is affording.

Failure to solve this problem in America is not only tragic because it can curb the usefulness and rounded development of our future citizens; it is dangerous to national security, which depends more and more on men and women trained in the techniques of science and engineering.

Not even the Supreme Court is

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Senate Committee Gets Tough With Nixon's Friend Chotiner; His Books And Records Are Subpoenaed; Senator Bricker, Whose Law Firm Represents Pennsylvania Railroad, Stalls Freight-Car Legislation.

WASHINGTON. — Sen. John McClellan of Arkansas, who can be an awfully tough prosecuting attorney, seems to be on the way to getting tough with Vice President Nixon's so-called "anchor man," Murray Chotiner. He has subpoenaed Chotiner's records, books, and bank accounts.

This came about after Chotiner refused to turn his records over to Bob Kennedy, brother of Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts, who is counsel of the Senate investigating committee. Kennedy had phoned Chotiner to ask a question about his activities on behalf of a west coast airline case. Chotiner refused to tell him anything.

"Why, this is nothing but a political fishing expedition," exclaimed the close friend and campaign manager of Vice President Nixon. "I'm not going to tell you anything."

Actually, the McClellan committee has leaned over backward to treat Chotiner with kid gloves. Though this same committee rode rough shod over Gen. Harry Vaughan and John Maragon—both justice—and though a long list of witnesses were cross-examined and sometimes browbeaten by the same committee when Joe McCarthy was chairman, McCarthy et al were almost obsequious when Chotiner appeared before it.

CHOTINER'S INFLUENCE

Chotiner of course not only managed Nixon's campaign for the Senate in 1950, but his campaign for vice president, plus the campaigns of several GOP congressmen in California. More recently he has been a member of the GOP National committee campaign school. Chotiner has also represented several criminals with careers before the federal government, plus airlines, a debt-collecting agency, and other clients in need of an attorney with influence.

All this caused counsel Kennedy to get tough. After Chotiner refused to give him any information, Kennedy wrote Chotiner a letter asking in black and white for the information requested, also about self has demanded the kind of speed in desegregation which the Powell amendment would seek to enforce. His proposal represents a shallow approach to a problem of the utmost gravity, and it could be tremendously costly to many young Americans.

Up to now neither administration lieutenants nor top Democrats in Congress have figured how to break past the Powell barrier and get the needed school bill enacted into law. But it is fair to ask that they redouble their efforts to find a way.

If heavy pressure from the administration is called for, then let us have it. If a public outcry at the present inadequacy is needed, let us have that, too, and urgent. A majority in Congress is willing to endorse aid to meet the need. There is not much ingenuity left in Washington if a means cannot be devised to remove the obstacle to that action.

other matters. Chotiner replied with a flat refusal. He claimed that Kennedy's request involved matters pertaining to his clients. Kennedy then went to McClellan and explained the situation. McClellan promptly authorized Kennedy to subpoena Chotiner's papers. This was done.

Note—It will be interesting to see how much influence Chotiner will be able to muster in his own defense. He has been able to muster quite a bit for others, so should have no trouble getting such powerful figures as the vice president of the United States and Joe McCarthy to go to bat for him now.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST??

GOP Sen. John Bricker of Ohio, whose Columbus law firm collects legal fees from the Pennsylvania railroad, has taken an interesting stand regarding freight-car shortage.

As of today, more freight rolls toward New York than rolls away from it. As a result eastern railroads have made money by retaining boxcars owned by western lines. They can do this provided they pay the owners a mere $2.40 a day, as required by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

As a result, Sens. Andrew Schoepel (R., Kans.) and Warren Magnuson (D., Wash.) have proposed that the ICC be given the power to penalize a railroad which fails to return the freight cars of another line. Their proposal would allow the ICC to boost the $2.40 rate to a penalty level whenever a freight-car shortage develops, as, for example, during the wheat harvest.

However, the Pennsylvania railroad, client of the Bricker law firm, is opposed to this change. And Bricker has become quite diligent about attending meetings of the Senate Commerce committee, though previously his attendance was spotty.

When the subject of freight-car penalties came up in a secret committee session the other day,

Bricker stalled for time.

"The eastern railroads are opposed to this bill," he insisted. "It's going to be expensive for them if they have to pay a higher per diem rate."

"In order that I can consider the matter further, I'd like to read the record and would like to have this put over until the next session two weeks from now," he requested, though he had already had considerable time to study the case.

"The boxcar shortage is serious, and we've got to do something," repeated Magnuson.

In the end, the committee deferred to senatorial courtesy and granted Bricker's request.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Postmaster General Summerfield has forbidden postal employees to complain against the post office except through their superiors. They also aren't allowed to furnish critical information to the press or to Congress without permission of their bosses. This is probably the most brazen gag order ever issued by a government department. Both Democratic and Republican congressmen are up in arms over the Summerfield order, which they fear may violate a citizen's constitutional right to petition Congress. . . . UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld will carry an American disarmament plan in his hip pocket on his forthcoming trip to Moscow. . . . India is playing Russia against Britain in negotiations to get modern jet planes. Prime Minister Nehru is shopping for the best deal. . . . The Navy has developed a wingless airliner that can take off vertically like a helicopter, yet fly forward like an ordinary plane. It may be the forerunner of future commercial airliners, do away with long runways near big cities. . . . King Saud has served a blunt ultimatum that the United States must continue shipping arms to Saudi Arabia or be kicked out of the big Arab base at Dhahran.

The Egyptian Health Department would like to share with the readers of this paper figures regarding the Polio Inoculation programs which have been conducted in Saline county over the past year.

There were 1423 children protected with polio vaccine during 1955 and 1956 by the joint efforts of the private physicians and the Egyptian Health Department. According to our vital statistics 2597 children born since 1950 are not included in our school enrollment. Our school enrollment for the year 1955-1956 including children 14 and younger was 4718, thus giving us a total population in the age group from one through 14 years of age of 7313. As stated above, 1423 children in the age group were given protection. By dividing the total population in this age group into the number of children protected gives us 19% of children in the county that are protected.

It is to be understood that this is not an absolutely correct figure as our school enrollment over the past few years has shown an increase over the preceding years.

It is believed a great reduction of paralytic poliomyelitis can be achieved if the number of immunized children is increased to 70 to 80% of the child population. Your Health Department has no desire to over persuade or work up a big scare about the future. However, there is a circumstance that those with children might do well to consider: If a sufficient percentage of the child population can be made immune from paralytic polio by inoculation it would greatly reduce the incidence of paralysis. Supplies of free polio vaccine are still available through the private physicians for the age group one through 14 years and pregnant women upon request.

The Minnesota State Park system consists of 63 units comprising 38,000 acres. The first state park was established in 1889.

To Recommend Guardsmen for Holiday Patrols

SPRINGFIELD — State Traffic Safety Coordinator Robert A. Campbell said today he would recommend that National Guardsmen be called out to patrol highways and help reduce traffic deaths on the Fourth of July and Labor Day.

Campbell, the office of Gov. William G. Stratton and State Police Chief William H. Morris all said they were disappointed that Illinois led the nation in traffic deaths on Memorial Day with 16 fatalities.

"I'm not only disappointed, I'm mad about it," Campbell told United Press.

He said he believed the governor should "call out the National Guard for the next holiday. We have to have some sort of dramatic punch to remind motorists of driving dangers," he said.

Campbell said he would recommend that the governor call out the guard for both July 4 and Labor Day.

Stratton declared an emergency after the "black Christmas" of 1955 when 46 persons were killed in Illinois traffic accidents and had guardsmen patrol the highways along with state police on the New Year's weekend.

The New Year's traffic toll was cut to 16.

Campbell said excessive speed was to blame for at least five of the Memorial Day deaths.

He and Morris agreed the Memorial Day toll pointed up a need for the fixed speed limit law being urged by Stratton and for more state police and more patrol cars.

The state police had all available men and 350 cars patrolling highways on Memorial Day.

People Like GOP Peace-Prosperity Slogan: Nixon

WASHINGTON — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today the Democrats may sneer at the Republican peace-and-prosperity slogan but the American people "like it and want it" for four more years.

Nixon also said President Eisenhower can win an even bigger victory in November than in 1952 if—and he called it a "big if"—the people vote.

"If we do not have a big vote," he said, "it runs a risk that a minority will decide who shall be president and who shall control the Senate and House."

Nixon spoke at the closing session of a national conference of the Citizens for Eisenhower organization. He was given an enthusiastic reception although he has not been endorsed yet by the group and presumably will not be until after the Republican national convention.

PHILADELPHIA — Princess Grace's father, John B. Kelly, said when informed of the Berlin dispatch: "We know nothing about it."

Army Enlistees May Choose Their Training Field

Opportunity is knocking for the high school graduate in today's U. S. Army.

Under the new "Reserved for You" program, male and female graduates take their choice of technical training and get that choice before enlistment.

The range of fields to choose from is wide, with a course for every background, every interest. There's training leading to skill in such fields as aircraft mechanic, electronics, radar, dental laboratory, etc.

Here's how the program works: High school graduates look over a listing of all the courses at their U. S. Army recruiting station. The application is sent in for the technical of their choice. When their choice is available, they will receive official word in form of a letter, guaranteeing that a place has been reserved in their name for the technical training of their choice. In the event the application is disapproved they do not enlist.

Thus, young men and women volunteering for the U. S. Army have the unusual advantage of knowing their assignment even before they are sworn in.

After graduation from high school if the graduate does not plan on attending college, contact Sgt. George Freddle, located at the Army Building at 26 South Vine, Harrisburg, or telephone Harrisburg 1447. Complete information will be given in the various technical courses.

Charles Nelson (Tony) Beal, athletic scholarship to Southern Illinois university, Richard Brown, $50 Lions club scholarship to SIU; Norma McDonald, $1,000 PTA scholarship with the announcement she intends to attend Blackburn college; Avah Phillips, $800 National Honor society scholarship with announcement she probably will attend the University of Illinois; Dorothy Schneider, nursing scholarship to Murray State; Ronnie Williams, athletic scholarship to Murray State.

American Legion medal awards, based on courage, leadership, honor, scholarship, character and service, were given to the following on vote of the HTHS faculty:

Girls: Norma McDonald first, Avah Phillips second. Boys: Harold Guard first, Ronnie Williams second.

Marshals for the occasion were Ann Endley and Robert Jones, highest ranking girl and boy in this year's Junior class.

End Segregation Of Neighborhoods, Presbyterians Ask

PHILADELPHIA — The 168th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. closed this week with an appeal to church members to work for desegregation of neighborhoods.

A pronouncement approved by the assembly asked Christians who are contemplating sale of their homes to "make their homes available to all qualified purchasers without regard to race."

The pronouncement said residential segregation was a major problem. It urged white Christians to consider the need of minority families for equal and adequate housing. It pointed out that few if any new homes have been available to non-whites in most communities, and those areas which have changed from white to Negro usually are older residential sections from which whites have moved.

It also urged "frank discussions" between small groups of church goers and persons of minority groups.

Highlights of the seven-day assembly included adoption of a statement condemning racial segregation as a "national" sin and endorsement of a proposed merger with the United Presbyterian Church.

President Praises Dairy Industry for Sales Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told dairy industry leaders today that their campaign to promote sales of milk foods "promotes stability in agriculture and contributes to the good health and welfare of the American people."

The President made his statement in a telegram to Steven Kostakos of Chicago, chairman of the June dairy month campaign. The promotion drive was kicked off at a lunch meeting here attended by government, industry and congressional leaders.

Mr. Eisenhower said progress in whittling down dairy surpluses by increasing sales "reflects the co-operation" of farmers, distributors, and all other segments of the dairy industry.

Report Seasonal Hike in Polio Cases

WASHINGTON — The Public Health Service today reported a sharp jump in polio cases last week. But it said the increase was strictly seasonal.

There were 112 cases last week compared with 85 the week before. But last week's total was considerably less than the 240 cases reported in the comparable week of 1955.

So far this year, there have been 1,744 cases compared with 2,286 for the same period last year. There have been 935 paralytic cases this year and 954 for the same period of 19

ELDORADO HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1931 MARKS 25TH ANNIVERSARY—Shown above are members of the E. T. H. S. graduating class of 1931, who celebrated their 25th anniversary with a dinner at the Eldorado high school cafeteria Saturday evening, May 26. Forty-two members of the class and four faculty members were present. The graduates introduced their

wife or husband, told something about their families and where they are living at the present time. Members were present from California to Washington, D. C. Letters and telegrams were read from class members and teachers that could not be present, expressing regrets. J. Lester Buford, principal at ETHS in 1931 and at present president of the National Education association, was guest speaker. The dinner was a Junior-Senior affair, with the Class of 1932 serving the meal. Group singing, music and "gab-fests" featured the evening, along with Mr. Buford's talk. Mr. and Mrs. Buford are in front row, center, and at their immediate right are Mr. and Mrs. T. Leo Dodd. Mr. Dodd was assistant principal in 1931 and later principal at ETHS.

Golden Bears' Officials Deny Breaking Rules

SAN FRANCISCO — The mushrooming Pacific Coast Conference "under-the-table-pay-off" charges landed on University of California today—but officials of the Golden Bears claimed they had lily-white hands.

Athletic Director Greg Englehard and Football Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf denied they had in any way circumvented the PCC rules—either with or without intent.

"Some years ago we found some jobs that were of the phony type," said Englehard, "but we cleaned that up right away and I think we've done a good job of keeping clean since then."

The charge that California had a "phony job" racket was leveled by J. Miller Leavy, Los Angeles attorney, who previously had charged that USC had over-paid its athletes about $72,000.

These claims followed on the heels of a three-year ban from the Rose Bowl and $95,000 fine against UCLA; and a two-year ban from the bowl and $52,000 fine against University of Washington by PCC officials.

Leavy charged that Waldorf had offered whole families better jobs to get a boy to play for him, that California recruiters were offering jobs to prospective athletes, that California furnished summer jobs for its athletes that paid $400 to $800 per month and a campus "job" paying $50 a month with no work attached.

To all of these charges, Englehard and Waldorf pleaded "not guilty."

Pickfords Defeat VFW, 12-3, in Practice Tilt

The Pickford team of the Three-I league in the Kiwanis program defeated the VFW team, 12-3, in a ball game played under the lights last night.

Pickfords played an excellent defensive game behind the one-hit pitching of "Butch" Biggs. Profit beat out an infield roller for the only hit.

Pavelonis led Pickfords' 10-hit attack with a single, double and triple in four trips. Biggs got two singles and Nelson, Beggs, Pickford, Karnes and Collins collected singles. Roper pitched four innings and allowed only three hits, but wildness and misplays along with the three hits allowed seven runs to score. Hancock pitched the rest of the game and was touched for seven hits and five runs.

Profit and Jahn caught for VFW and Pickford was the receiver for the winners.

Banks made an outstanding play on the infield, going behind second to rob Biggs of a hit, and Dale Wasson, Gary Karnes, Bob Pavelonis and Donnie Beggs, the Pickford infield, all made good defensive plays.

Meeting Saturday To Form Teams for Kiwanis League

All boys in the 8-12 and 13-14 age brackets who are interested in playing on a baseball team this summer in the Kiwanis league, are asked to be at the VFW party Saturday at 9 a. m. Teams are needed in both of these leagues, Kitty and Three-I, in the Kiwanis program. Fred Wunderlich, Charles Nelson and Bill Keen will be on hand to help with the organization of the teams.

Flaherty Gets Record $93,819 For 500 Victory

INDIANAPOLIS — A record check of $93,819 went to Pat Flaherty today for his victory in the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race. The Chicagoan's prize money, which includes $49,000 in Speedway prizes and $19,050 in lap awards, will not all go to him, however. John Zink, owner of Flaherty's speedster, will decide how to split up the cash between the driver and the crew.

Normally the pilot received 35 to 40 per cent which would give the freckle-faced Flaherty a check in the neighborhood of $37,000, give or take a thousand.

Also included in the winning jackpot were accessory awards worth $23,375. All told, Flaherty won the largest prize since the late Bill Vukovich collected $89,469 in 1953.

The prize melon was split Thursday night as the board of directors of the United States Auto Club convened, presumably to formulate technical changes for next year's grind with the emphasis on more safety and increased interest in the automotive world.

Sam Hanks, Pacific Palisades, Calif., runner-up to Flaherty, collected $32,919. Don Freeland, Los Angeles, who finished third, won $20,419. Fourth place Johnny Parsons, Van Nuys, Calif., got $15,769, and Dick Rathmann, Trenton, N. J., in fifth spot, took home $10,744.

All 33 starters shared in the jackpot, with last place Paul Russo, Canoga Park, Calif., getting $3,974.

Rookie of the year honors went to Bob Weith, 29-year-old Oakland, Calif., newcomer to the 500, who finished seventh.

Legion-Stars Play Nashville Here Saturday, Sunday

Local baseball fans are in for a treat this week end when the local Legion-Stars meet the classy Nashville Red Caps at the new field adjacent to the fairgrounds Saturday night under the lights and again Sunday afternoon at the same field. The visitors have young team of hustlers who have won several games already this season and are expecting to better their record in their visit here. They tour the southeastern states in their season's play.

Big Bill McNew is slated to hurl the Saturday night contest with Don Wallace doing the pitching Sunday afternoon. Probably sharing the catching job will be Dick Romonosky and Floyd Vinyard. Around the infield for the locals will be Bob Dallas, Ronnie Ziebler, Don Karnes and Harold Guley. Outfield patrolling will be done by the following players in turn or as needed: Rod Smith, Raymond Sisky, Frank Logsdon, Ken Nolen and Jim Hay. Jim Parton will be on hand to take part either in the outfield or infield.

The Legion-Stars are in position this season to book some stellar baseball attractions for home games. Guarantees for good clubs run high and future bookings will depend on how much support the locals get from vicinity baseball fans. This is especially true of night contests where expenses run high. Fans desiring good baseball can show the local club that they do by appearing for the two contests slated for this week end.

Kline Takes His Turn in Sparking Pirates to 3-0 Win; Cardinals Beat Reds, 9-3

By United Press
Ronnie Kline, the "forgotten man" in Pittsburgh's spectacular rise, moved front and center today to receive his rightful acclaim with all the other Pirate heroes.

While most of the cheers were going to fellows like Dale Long, Bob Friend, Frank Thomas and Lee Walls, the 24-year old Kline was toiling more or less in the background.

He remedied that Thursday night, however, when he posted his fourth victory and second shut-out by blanking the Giants, 3-0, in a game called in the eighth inning because of rain.

"A different guy picks up in every game," says Pittsburgh manager Bobby Bragan. "One day it's Long, the next time Friend and then maybe Thomas or Walls."

Thursday night it was Kline's turn as he limited the Giants to four singles, allowed no walks and struck out three. It was quite a performance for the six-foot-three right-hander who had a sour 0-7 record with the Pirates in 1952 and won only six games last year after returning from service.

Freese Clears Sacks
Despite threatening weather which finally turned to rain and halted the game with one out and the Pirates at bat in the eighth, 15,123 fans turned out at Forbes Field and set up a thunderous din when Gene Freese smashed a bases-loaded double off Jim Hearn in the fifth.

The second-place Cardinals remained a half-game ahead of the crushing Pirates with a 9-3 victory over the Redlegs.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell gained his fifth victory and had a two-hitter until the ninth inning when Gus Bell, Ted Kluszewski and Frank Robinson hit successive homers. The Cards hopped on Cincinnati starter Art Fowler for four runs in the first inning and added four more in the second.

Milwaukee held on to first place by crushing Chicago, 15-8, with a 15-hit bombardment that included five homers. The barrage of homers gave the Braves a total of 15 for their three-game series with the Cubs, equalling the major league home run record for three consecutive games by one club.

Adcock Leads Parade
Joe Adcock led Milwaukee's home run parade with two circuits while Del Crandall, Bill Bruton and Eddie Mathews each hit one. Jim King homered for the Cubs, who made the game look easier than it actually was with six unearned runs in the ninth. Lew Burdette registered his fourth victory although he gave way to Red Murphy in the ninth. Paul Minner was the loser.

The Dodgers and Phillies were idle.

In the American League, the Yankees increased their league lead to 6 1/2 games with a 9-6 decision over the Senators.

The Yankees snapped a 4-all tie with five runs in the sixth, fashioned on three singles, two errors and a wild pitch. Although the Yankees collected 12 hits, including a homer by Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle, the league's leading hitter, went hitless.

Bob Porterfield pitched the Red Sox to a 4-1 victory over the Orioles in the only other American league game scheduled. Porterfield yielded only four hits and collected three of Boston's eight hits. The Red Sox scored two runs, all they needed, off Bill Wright in the first inning.

Commit Ex-Champ Johnny Bratton To Mental Hospital

CHICAGO — Johnny Bratton, world welterweight champion six years ago, was readied for enrollment at a state mental hospital today and friends said he is penniless.

He is 29 years old. He won the championship at 23, and was said to have earned $300,000 as a boxer. Judge Walter J. Stevens approved his commitment to the state hospital at Manteno after friends testified he has no money and doctors said he was mentally incompetent and in need of treatment.

"I kind of hope they can help me," said Bratton.

Friends recalled that he had hoped to retire by the time he was 21.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

Thousands of people will set out on vacation travels within the next few weeks. Americans will travel millions of miles in their quest for relaxation and change. A great portion of these pleasure seekers will move so fast that they will scarcely see the points of interest and the beauty of their surroundings.

Many vacation goals are little more than dots on maps or a few nights of short sleep in a variety of motels. Scores of people mutiny to see by scattering odd bits of trash and refuse for which they have no use.

This year, let us plan our vacations with the thought that God is going to be wherever we are. Let us realize that He created the world and made the beautiful scenery which we can see if we take the time to look at it.

There is an altar for worship amid the spires of mountain peaks and in the chancelled valleys through which flow clear, pure streams of undefiled water. God whispers in the forests and wafts the incense of the sagebrush.

The Maker paints cathedral windows on the sky at sunset, and tints the churchly rafters of the morning. He thrills the spirit of mankind to worship with the carols of the birds. We find peace with God on the rock-bound coasts which stand impregnable before the pounding waves of time.

Plan to vacation with God this summer. Worship as you go.

Mississippi River Bridge Collapses

MUSCATINE, Iowa (UP) — A 160-foot span of a bridge across the Mississippi River collapsed today, dumping a semi-trailer truck and its driver into the water 20 feet below.

The driver, William Wheatcraft, 28, Mansfield, Ohio, suffered only minor injuries.

He got out of the partially submerged truck and climbed on the broken bridge girders to the Illinois side of the river.

In colonial days the word "office" was applied to any small subsidiary building not otherwise designated as to use.

incidents of humor and tragedy.

Frank Hayes, a ferry pilot 15 years, recalled the woman driver who missed the dock ramp. Her car ran into the river up to the windshield.

"She got out yelling that her baby was in there," the pilot said. "I waded out and looked in and there was a boy about 14 years old and weighing 200 pounds, scared stiff."

"I said 'Boy, c'mon outta there.' And he managed to, somehow."

Scrap books kept by Mrs. Schwander tell the ordeal Lambert and his men went through in the disastrous 1937 Ohio River flood.

They piloted their boats and barges for 72 hours at a stretch without sleep to rescue victims. The pilots encountered floating logs, derelict barges and occasionally bumped house-tops.

Heiress Fights To Save $10 Million Estate

CHICAGO (AP)—A beautiful heiress fought today to save a 10-million-dollar inheritance and her "merchant queen" grandmother's reputation as a business genius. Both are threatened by a master of chancery's report filed in Superior Court Thursday. If the report is upheld, brunette heiress Mollie Natcher Bragno will lose 10 million dollars of the 11 1/2 million dollars willed her by her fabled grandmother, Mollie Natcher Newbury, the "Merchant Queen of State Street."

Court approval of the report would also knock the late Mrs. Newbury from her proud place in the annals of the business world. For it pictures her as an inexperienced housewife who tried to be a tycoon, bungled her late husband's business, and dodged her "legal duty" to sell out when she had the chance.

Mrs. Bragno, 29, will get her chance to defend her inheritance and her grandmother June 13, when hearings on objections to the report will be heard by Superior Court Judge George M. Fisher. The report of Master in Chancery Llewellyn Westcott was a preliminary victory for Mrs. Francis Natcher Bushkin, Mrs. Bragno's sister and wife of a New York jazz pianist, and for Mrs. Bragno's aunt, Mrs. Ethel Natcher Chagnon.

Their claim is based on an item in the will of Mrs. Newbury's first husband, Charles Natcher, founder of the Boston Store and one of the greatest of the Chicago merchant princes.

Natcher, they claimed, set up a trust fund for his children and their four heirs with the provision that the Boston Store should be sold if it failed to make money over a year's time. This was the case in 1923, Mrs. Bragno's relatives charged, but Mrs. Newbury turned down a 26 1/2 million dollar offer. It was sold in 1946 for 6 million dollars.

As a result, their trust fund is short $16,844,808, the women charged. They demanded Mrs. Newbury's estate, including 10 million dollars of Mrs. Bragno's inheritance, go to make up the difference.

Westcott upheld their claim in a 75-page report.

7 HTHS FFA Members And Adviser Leave For Lake Taneycomo

Seven members of the Harrisburg Township high school FFA chapter and their adviser, E. J. Thompson, left today for a week's vacation at Lake Taneycomo in the Missouri Ozarks.

Each year honor members of the Future Farmers of America at HTHS take an all-expense paid trip, expenses coming from the chapter treasury from funds raised throughout the year.

Winners are determined on a point system for participating in all FFA events, with grades the major point-making factor, Mr. Thompson said.

FFA members making the trip are Charles Buchanan, Allen Buchanan, Bill Fox, James Gates, Charles Wright, Jerry Moyer and James Stricklin. The winners of first, second and third—Charles Buchanan, Fox and Stricklin—also received $30, $20, and $10 in cash respectively.

Ancient Scrolls Tell of Buried Jordan Treasure

LONDON (AP) — Accounts of fabulous gold and silver hoards inscribed on two ancient copper scrolls might send a wave of treasure hunters into Jordan, scholars said today.

The fact that past stories of buried treasure in the Middle East have failed to materialize or that old landmarks have been covered up probably will not discourage adventurers seeking to get rich quick, they said.

Details of the scrolls, found on the western shores of the Dead Sea by Bedouins, were disclosed Thursday in Manchester and Amman, Jordan.

When they were first discovered they were expected to contain Biblical writings as had previous papyrus scrolls. Instead, they reported the existence of a 2,000-year-old secret of 200 tons of buried treasure.

The scrolls indicated it was buried in the ranges from East Hebron to Mount Gerzim near Nabulus, a stretch of 50 miles in Jordan near the Israel border west of the Dead Sea. Most of it appeared to be in the city of Jerusalem.

The scrolls were believed buried by members of the Essenes, an historic Jewish sect whose settlement was destroyed by the Romans in 68 A. D.

Edward B. Cummins Heads APG Post Of Ordnance Ass'n

Edward B. Cummins, assistant operations officer of Development and Proof Services at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., and son of Mrs. E. W. Cummins of this city, has been elected president of the APG post of the American Ordnance association. He will take office July 1.

The Proving Ground post, which started the 1955 year with 850 members, now has more than 1,000 representatives of industry and the armed forces, both military and civilian, on the rolls. Enrollment gains have placed the post among the top ten nationally in growth. The national organization is approaching 40,000 members, topped only by three post-war years.

The association, started at Aberdeen Proving Ground in 1919, will hold its national meeting and demonstration in October. National meetings are rotated between the Army, Navy and Air Force, which use the opportunity to brief association members on yearly ordnance advances.

Mr. Cummins, who has been in charge of the Army's huge 280 mm cannon at Aberdeen Proving Ground, was in charge of the gun in an Armed Forces Day parade in Washington recently.

Court Upholds Conviction Of Dr. Sheppard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Defense attorneys for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard today considered taking to the U. S. Supreme Court their appeal from the osteopath's life sentence for the slaying of his wife.

The Ohio Supreme Court, in a 5-2 decision late Thursday, upheld Sheppard's conviction for the bludgeoning-slaying of his wife Marilyn.

The case was a nationwide sensation in late 1954 when the 31-year-old Bay Village, Ohio, man was brought to trial.

The prosecution claimed that Sheppard viciously killed his wife with more than 30 blows from a blunt instrument. The state also presented testimony alleging that the handsome suburban Cleveland doctor had affairs with other women.

Sheppard was convicted in December, 1954, and sentenced to life imprisonment. He entered Ohio Penitentiary last summer after preliminary appeals to win a new trial or freedom failed.

Under Ohio law, Sheppard is not eligible for a parole until he serves at least 10 years of the life sentence given to him for second degree murder.

In its decision, the Ohio Supreme Court held that the jury had a "duty to convict" Sheppard
